

Can private money end global poverty?

PPPs and financing the post-MDG/2015 agenda

Part of EurActiv's 'European Development Dialogue' workshop series
(Brussels, Paris, Berlin, Madrid, London and Rome events during 2014)

Stakeholder Workshop

An event organised by Fondation EurActiv
With the support of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation

Thursday 6 November 2014 | 12 noon – 2pm
EurActiv Network Office, 1 Bd. Charlemagne, 1041 Brussels

2015 will see the superseding of the Millennium Development Goals by the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), while next year has also been declared as the European Year for Development (#EYD2015).

In the context of the post-2015 financing debate – ranging from the likelihood that many EU member states will miss their '0.7%' target to newer models of development financing - the EurActiv Institute invites you to a roundtable to explore these questions:

- What lessons do the MDGs teach us in the context of Public-Private Partnerships (PPPs)?
- What forms of PPPs should be championed to finance the post-2015 agenda, achieve goals in areas as diverse as agriculture, water and renewables, and how can they be 'scaled'?
- What are the ideal transparency requirements for the private-sector in delivering overseas aid?
- How can public-sector institutions' involvement in PPPs be optimized?

Confirmed contributors:

- Klaus RUDISCHHAUSER, Deputy Director, DG DEVCO – European Commission
- Davor Ivo STIER MEP, EPP Coordinator, Development Committee and EPP Coordinator for Delegation to the ACP-EU Joint Parliamentary Assembly
- Marie Paule ROUDIL, Head of the UNESCO Liaison Office in Brussels and UNESCO Representative to the European Union
